

Git Manual

`git init` -

Used To initialize git in particular folder

`git add (file_name) or (.)` -

record changes done to a file to staging area

`git status` -

display state of code (like untracked, modified)

`git commit -m "new msg"` -

finalize or record a change

`git push origin main` -

used to push code from local repo to remote repo (origin in this case, can be changed)

`git push --force (remote_name) (branch name)` -

It is used to push the code forcefully to the repo. (Only to be used when any issue arises during pushing into remote repo)

`git clone (url)` -

Used to copy data to local machine from remote repo

`git branch` -

used to list number of branches

`git branch (new_branch_name -> test2)` -

Used to create a new branch

`git checkout (branch_name -> origin)-`

used to switch branch

`git branch -d (branch_name -> origin)-`

used to delete a branch

`git remote add (remote_repo_name -> test)-`

used to give a name to remote repo (test in this case, can be changed)

`git remote remove (remote_name) -`

Used to delete a remote (name of branch)

`git remote -`

Used to list all the name of remote repo.

`git diff (branch_name -> Origin) -`

Used to tell difference between current branch and stated branch (Origin in this case)

`git merge (branch_name -> Origin) -`

Used to add content of one to another branch (Origin in this case)